INFORMATION TO BE INCLUDED IN FORM ECSRC-K

1. Business.

Provide a description of the developments in the main line of business including accomplishments and future plans. The discussion of the development of the reporting issuer's business need only include developments since the beginning of the financial year for which this report is filed.

For the year ended October 31st, 2016 the Bank reported a profit before tax of $0.4 million compared to $0.2 million in the prior year.

The reduction in the minimum savings interest rate to 2.0%, coupled with a decline in the deposits portfolio, led to a $0.5 million savings in interest costs. Notwithstanding a reduction in the lending portfolio of $8.3 million or 13%, interest income rose by $0.3 million for 2016 due to a one-time correction for non-accrual interest. Credit impairment expense increased by $0.7 million, due to the modification in the methodology for assessing general credit losses. Total assets declined by $10.4 million or 12% mainly due to reduction in the loans and advances portfolio as a result of amortization and write-off of certain non-performing facilities. The opportunity for new lending continues to be challenged by the unfavorable economic environment characterized by low demand for credit. Customer deposits decreased by $9.8 million or 15% due to the movement of funds by primarily private account holders.

In response to the continued weak economic and market conditions the Bank continues in its exercise to streamline its operations throughout the region to reposition the organization to better serve and satisfy our clients at optimum efficiency. In addition, the bank rolled out its Mobile Banking Application (App), to further enhance its Mobile Banking platform. Technological advances are in the pipeline to improve card products and point of sale thus enhancing client convenience and making banking easier.

10. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operation.

Discuss the reporting issuer's financial condition covering aspects such as liquidity, capital resources, changes in financial condition and results of operations during the financial year of the filing. Discussions of liquidity and capital resources may be combined whenever the two topics are interrelated.

The Management's Discussion and Analysis should disclose sufficient information to enable investors to judge:

1. The quality of earnings;
2. The likelihood that past performance is indicative of future performance; and
3. The issuer's general financial condition and outlook.

It should disclose information over and above that which is provided in the management accounts and should not be merely a description of the movements in the financial statements in narrative form or an otherwise uninformative series of technical responses. It should provide management's perspective of the company that enables investors to view the business from the vantage point of management.

The discussion should focus on aspects such as liquidity; capital resources; changes in financial condition; results of operations; material trends and uncertainties and measures taken or to be taken to address unfavourable trends; key performance indicators; and non-financial indicators.

General Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition

The improvement in the performance was attributable to increased net interest income and reduced operating expenses. The bank will continue to take efforts to improve the quality of its loans portfolio and maintain effective control over operating expenses.

The bank continues to be very liquid due to low demand for credit and the prevailing low interest investment environment. As such, cost management remains critical to the success of the bank and efforts will be made to look for greater efficiencies and to increase the use of lower cost channels. To combat the low demand for credit, the bank continues to review its product offering in order to align it to client needs. Particularly, the bank seeks to enhance and leverage its digital capabilities in order to become a Digitally-Enabled Relationship Bank.

The bank continues to hold liquidity well in excess of the stipulated reserve requirement by ECCB. There continues to be excess liquidity in the banking system due to low credit demand and limited investment opportunities that fit with the Bank's risk profile.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Provide a narrative explanation of the following (but not limited to):

- i) The reporting issuer's financial condition covering aspects such as liquidity, capital resources, changes in financial condition and results of operations.
- ii) Any known trends, demands, commitments, events or uncertainties that will result in, or that are reasonably likely to result in, the issuer's liquidity increasing or decreasing in any material way. If a deficiency is identified, indicate the course of action that the reporting issuer has taken or proposes to take to remedy the deficiency.
- iii) The issuer's internal and external sources of liquidity and any material unused sources of liquid assets.
- iv) Provisions contained in financial guarantees or commitments, debt or lease agreements or other arrangements that could trigger a requirement for an early payment, additional collateral support, changes in terms, acceleration of maturity, or the creation of an additional financial obligation such as adverse changes in the issuer's financial ratios, earnings, cash flows or stock price or changes in the value of underlying, linked or indexed assets.
- v) Circumstances that could impair the issuer's ability to continue to engage in transactions that have been integral to historical operations or are financially or operationally essential or that could render that activity commercially impracticable such as the inability to maintain a specified level of earnings, earnings per share, financial ratios or collateral.
- vi) Factors specific to the issuer and its markets that the issuer expects will affect its ability to raise short-term and long-term financing, guarantees of debt or other commitment to third parties, and written options on non-financial assets.
- vii) The relevant maturity grouping of assets and liabilities based on the remaining period at the balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date. Commentary should provide information about effective periods and the way the risks associated with different maturity and interest profiles are managed and controlled.
- viii) The issuer's material commitments for capital expenditures as of the end of the latest fiscal period, and indicate the general purposes of such commitments and the anticipated source of funds needed to fulfil such commitments.
- ix) Any known material trends, favorable or unfavorable, in the issuer's capital resources, including any expected material changes in the mix and relative cost of capital resources, considering changes between debt, equity and any off-balance sheet financing arrangements.

Discussion of Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Banks' liquidity position remains stable with a healthy customer deposit base and independence from inter-company or inter-bank borrowings. In the event that additionally funding needs arise, the Bank continues to enjoy easy access to inter-company borrowings to meet liquidity needs.

Additionally, the Bank continues to meet and exceed the Weekly Reserve Requirement mandated by the Banking Act, without issue given the excess liquid resources on the books.

The bank continues to be above the regulatory requirements for Capital Adequacy with a ratio of 38% versus a requirement of 8% reflecting the prudent use of capital and the historic strong results of the bank in a difficult operating environment.

Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

Provide a narrative explanation of the following (but not limited to):

- i) Disclosures concerning transactions, arrangements and other relationships with unconsolidated entities or other persons that are reasonably likely to materially affect liquidity or the availability of, or requirements for capital resources.
- ii) The extent of the issuer's reliance on off-balance sheet arrangements should be described fully and clearly where those entities provide financing, liquidity, market or credit risk support, or expose the issuer to liability that is not reflected on the face of the financial statements.
- iii) Off-balance sheet arrangements such as their business purposes and activities, their economic substance, the key terms and conditions of any commitments, the initial on-going relationship with the issuer and its affiliates and the potential risk exposures resulting from its contractual or other commitments involving the off-balance sheet arrangements.
- iv) The effects on the issuer's business and financial condition of the entity's termination if it has a finite life or it is reasonably likely that the issuer's arrangements with the entity may be discontinued in the foreseeable future.

None.

Results of Operations

In discussing results of operations, issuers should highlight the company's products and services, facilities and future direction. There should be a discussion of operating considerations and unusual events, which have influenced results for the reporting period. Additionally, any trends or uncertainties that might materially affect operating results in the future should be discussed.

Provide a narrative explanation of the following (but not limited to):

- i) Any unusual or infrequent events or transactions or any significant economic changes that materially affected the amount of reported income from continuing operations and, in each case, the extent to which income was so affected.
- ii) Significant components of revenues or expenses that should, in the company's judgment, be described in order to understand the issuer's results of operations.
- iii) Known trends or uncertainties that have had or that the issuer reasonably expects will have a material favorable or unfavorable impact on net sales or revenues or income from continuing operations.
- iv) Known events that will cause a material change in the relationship between costs and revenues (such as price increases, costs of labour or materials), and changes in relationships should be disclosed.
- v) The extent to which material increases in net sales or revenues are attributable to increases in prices or to increases in the volume or amount of goods or services being sold or to the introduction of new products or services.
- vi) Matters that will have an impact on future operations and have not had an impact in the past.
- vii) Matters that have had an impact on reported operations and are not expected to have an impact upon future operations
- viii) Off-balance sheet transactions, arrangements, obligations (including contingent obligations), and other relationships that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on the registrant's financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources.
- ix) Performance goals, systems and, controls,

Overview of Results of Operations

The Bank's results have shown an improvement over prior year driven primarily by an increase in net interest income of $0.7 million and reduced other operating expenses of $0.4 million partially offset by an increase in impairment losses on loans and advances of $0.7 million.

Cost control remained integral to the bank's results as staff costs reduced by $0.6 million as a result of the branch re-organization exercise.

The Bank has envisioned that its customers must be able to bank anywhere and at any time that is convenient to them. As such, the Bank will transform itself into a Digitally-Enabled Relationship Bank. It will leverage digital platforms to increase client access and convenience whilst also to reduce costs.
